

South Shields Sanddancers

www.sanddancer.co.uk

"Your Local Information Source"

Sunny South Shields is situated at the mouth of the river Tyne, in the North East of England and boasts many attractions such as Arbeia Roman Fort, Souter Lighthouse (the first in the world to be powered by electricity), the world's first self-righting lifeboat, the Catherine Cookson exhibition, the fairground, sandy beaches and Marsden Rock. On a night time South Shields comes alive with its vast choice of bars and clubs, all within a short walking distance from each other, whilst Ocean road has a wide choice of restaurants which offer English, Indian and Italian Dishes, to tickle those taste buds. South Shields is also home to South Tyneside college which offers a wide range of courses.

The South Shields Sanddancers Website is aimed at both Local folk and Ex-pats all over the world, and offers a wide range of FREE services to provide you with information and entertainment, such as:

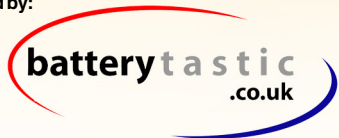

- Doon Toon Pictures, Old Photos, Dating
- Local History and Genealogy, Chatrooms
- Local Housing, Classified Ads, Recipes
- Accommodation, Users Gallery, Jobs
- Business Guide, Babe/Hunk of the Month
- Message Boards and lots more...

These are only a few of the things you will find on South Shields Sanddancers.

Visit us at: www.sanddancer.co.uk

Sponsored by:

Suppliers of:

Cordless Phone Batteries
Digital Camera Batteries
Video Camera Batteries
And loads more.....

www.batterytastic.co.uk